

Emails in these folders detail my attempts to communicate with the owner and staff of Armadillophone, a Canadian firm that sells encrypted cellphones. In July 2022 I purchased two cellphones from the company. Within minutes of activating them both they were hacked. I attempted to correspond with the owner of the company, Mr. Noy, and his staff but found my contact attempts were replied to oddly or not at all. I tried by text, email, and phone to no avail. All actions point to my attempts being blocked by hackers to prevent me from returning the phones for forensic inspection by the Armadillophone technicians.

I referred the issue to Det. Iinuma at HPD who stated he called the company. His “investigation” amounted to doing no more than I did. He demanded I turn the phones over to him for “safekeeping” whereas previously he stated he had no international jurisdiction in the matter. Had I given him my phones of which he previously stated he had no claim I would have never seen them again. Considering the deceit, trickery, and malice he exhibited toward me during the course of our interaction, and the fact he used me not delivering the phones to him (on a day which he specified and then was not available) as an excuse to close all my cases, I’m absolutely certain had I given him the devices they would have been erased to remove the evidence of hacking. I'm convinced the phones would have never been returned to Mr. Noy, or if they were returned each phone would have been erased and reset first to eliminate evidence of hacking.

My repeated attempts via email to coordinate the return delivery of the hacked cellphone to Mr. Noy failed. The folder titled "Blocked EMails" gives details about the attempts.

Cyber criminals blocked Mr. Noy's connectivity to my phone. Emails he sent to me bounced. An inquiry to Mr. Noy or his business representatives asking about unreturned cell phones and failed email and phone call attempts to reach me will reveal what I state is true and prove the illegal actions perpetrated by the cyber criminals. Please contact them for verification.

These files detail part of my communication attempts with Armadillophone, a Canadian company that sells encrypted cellphones. After encountering trouble with phones after they were compromised and disabled by hackers, I attempted repeatedly to coordinate returning the phones but could not after my emails, phone calls, and texts were intercepted through Man-In-The-Middle cyber attacks and blocked.

Hello, Mr. Noy...

This text is from Ricardo Finney in Kapolei, Hawaii. Per the attached photo, I have two paid transactions with you for phones which have not been satisfied. One for a pair of Armadillo Enterprise phones and accessories and a second for Standard Armadillo phones made in error for which I've requested a refund. I haven't received the Enterprise set with shipping promised on 6/30/22 and I haven't received a refund for the Standard set. Please call me right now about these matters. Thank you.

Aloha,

I have not received my two Enterprise phones and accessories shipped on 6/30/22 using DHL 1-3 day receipt as indicated in your emails. I have not received the purchase order. I've left voice messages asking for a phone call about my order but have not received your reply.

The order I cancelled for two Standard phones and accessories resulting in a refund has not yet posted to my Discover card and still appears as a valid charge.

Please advise when I will receive the Enterprise phones and accessories. Please reply today with my purchase order, shipping information, and a phone call addressing all these problems as requested. Thank you for helping me.

Hi Ricardo, Intent from vendor to ship my items on 6/30/22

Your order will be shipped tomorrow. We use DHL Express air mail which is the fastest shipping method in the world and typically is 1-3 days worldwide. We use the processing time before shipment to test and inspect your device for tampering.

Cheers,

Hello,

As of today, 7/6/2022, I have not received the two Armadillo Enterprise cellphones and accessories. Per the email from Mr. Noy sent on Wednesday 6/29/2022, my order was shipped on 6/30/2022 with a 1-3 day arrival time. Accordingly, I should have received the shipment no later than 7/3/2022. I never received shipping information from you so I have no way to track the shipment.

Unfortunately for me, this order hasn't progressed as smoothly as my last one. Please let me know today what is going on with the shipment and when I will receive it. Also, please advise today when the refund for the two Standard Armadillo phones and accessories will post to my credit card. Thank you.

Both charges total $6978.00 and remain unresolved as a direct result of the cyber attacks against my business network. Again, I am am certain the source of the interference are cyber criminals trying to prevent me from getting encrypted cell phones to prevent me from speaking to my attorney and others privately. I have detailed the circumstances surrounding the cyber attacks I receive and the matters surrounding the whistle blowing in numerous HPD statements.

Since I can no longer communicate with the vendor to find out about my shipment and refund and indications are they cannot connect with me, I ask that the officer assigned to this HPD statement investigate my statements immediately. I ask that law enforcement assistance be provided to assist me in reconnecting with the vendor Armadillophone.com by close of business Thursday, 7/14/22, or sooner if possible. calls on 7/8/2022. I reached voice mail each time. I requested call backs but not received answers. On 7/9/22 at 6:27 a.m. I sent a text to Mr. Noy's mobile number listed at his Armadillophone.com website (604) 318-0348 again explaining the problems with the problems with the phone orders and asking for resolution. The responder indicated I had contacted the wrong number. This is very strange and does not correlate with the contact information. Mr. Noy lists at his website. I attached a screen shot showing the text interaction. On 7/9/22 at 6:15. a.m. I left a 1:03 min/sec voice message at (604) 318-0348 requesting a call back that was not returned. The reason I am buying encrypted phones is because my iPhone has been compromised by cyber criminals, the same ones who I believe are blocking the delivery of the encrypted phones I purchased. They know the devices will defeat their illegal surveillance and allow me to conduct private communications about their illegal activities without their knowledge. On 7/5/2022 I attempted seven times to leave a text entry at the Armadillophone.com website customer service portal to address the phone shipment and communication problems. Each time I was prevented from posting due to "incorrect captcha entries" required to validate human entries and prevent spam. The repeated defaults occurred even though I clicked the correct validation blocks each time I tried. I could not get a response from the interactive chat mode at the site. I attached screen shots depicting the rejection that appeared each time I tried to connect.

I believe the representatives at Armadillo.com have done nothing wrong. I believe the cyber criminals who stalk me are interfering with the phone purchase and refund. I believe Armadillo.com staff members have been attempted to reach me via email but theirs have bounced and their phone calls diverted to voice mail which I do not receive. I've made seven phone calls to Armadillophone.com at different times during business days from my compromised iPhone and only reached the company's voice mail never a person no matter what time or day I call. I have not received responses to requests to return my calls. I've been blocked from connecting to the text messaging. Eight days have passed and the refund for the Standard phones has not posted to my Discover credit card. The DHL with the phones is at least six days overdue. it is illogical that Armadillophone.com, an established vendor would cease contact after receiving payment. not complete the paid transaction, and not process a refund after stating the action would be done. As detailed in the attached screen shot, the refund for the Standard phone and accessories

The undersigned freely and voluntarily provides the following statement:

Cyber attacks against my business network are preventing me from completing two online transactions currently totalling $6978.00. I am a whistle blower targeted by cyber criminals who are preventing me from receiving two encrypted cell phones, two encrypted SIM cards, and two protective cell phone cases purchased from Armadillophone.com. On 6/26/22 at 1045 a.m I paid $3639.00 for these items using my Discover credit card. On 6/29/22 at 10:29 a.m. I received an email from the vendor indicating my devices were to be shipped on 6/30/22 via DHL Shippers with a 1-3 day arrival time to Hawaii. The cellphones I ordered were the "Enterprise" model constructed with higher security than the Armadillophone "Standard" model. Immediately preceding my purchase of the Enterprise phones and accessories, I purchased two Standard phones and accessories for $3339.00 unaware of the Enterprise model. After realizing the Standard phones were less secure I cancelled the order and submitted a charge reversal request at 1050 a.m. on 6/26/22. On 7/2/22 at 7:39 a.m. I received an email from Mr. Kelaghn Noy the founder of Armadillophone (kelaghn.noy@armadillophone.com, (604) 318-0348 that a refund request for the pair of Standard Armadillo phones and accessories had been sent to their credit card processor. I attached copies of all the pertinent emails. Mr. Noy's notice was the last correspondence I received from Armadillophone.com. I have not received a purchase order for the Enterprise phones and accessories, no DHL shipping information, and no reversal of the charge for the Standard phones and accessories. I sent email queries to Armadillophone.com sales (sales@armadillo.com, (888 861-4332, ext 1), operations (operations@armadillo.com, (888 861-4332, ext 2), and to Mr. Noy on 7/5/2022 at 8:37 a.m., 7/6/2022 at 6:53 a.m., and 7/8/2022 at 4:50 p.m., I made seven phone
